Steve Legatt
President/CEO - Infinity Homes, Inc.

Steve was born and raised in Central Minnesota. He attended St. Cloud State University, where he graduated Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science in Manufacturing Engineering. Steve also holds his Professional Engineer In-Training certification for the State on Minnesota.

The majority of Steve's professional experience prior to starting Infinity Homes was with custom components and assemblies that were utilized in high tech areas such as semi-conductor fabrication. During this time in Engineering and Operations Management Steve had the opportunity to work with people and companies from around the world. And after eight years in the engineering world he decided to transform his engineering/management skills and experience into home building. Steve took his experience developed from working with customers, employees, sub-contractors, manufacturing, commercial construction, mechanical design, costing, scheduling and quality control and starting to apply all these towards his new company, Infinity Homes, Inc. This is how and why Infinity Homes provides a "Professional Home Building Experience".
